Unit Reset Planner [URP]

The Automated Reset Management Tool (ARMT) is the tool the Army utilizes to assist in managing Reset. The URP is the "first step" to induct a unit's equipment into the Reset process. The Logistics Support Activity (LOGSA) has deployed an updated URP to incorporate recommendations to the application, and improve the process.

Unit Reset Officers access the URP for the Unit Identification Code (UICs) they have responsibility for, through LOGSA's web based Logistics Information Warehouse (LIW). Access is granted through submission of a System Access Request (SAR) for the URP.

The new URP auto generates Reset plans for deployed UICs, using PBUSE data. It stratifies on-hand equipment eligible for Reset into nine types of Reset Plans:

- Automatic Reset Induction (ARI)
- Sustainment Maintenance (Intensively Managed Items - IMI)
- Sustainment Supply (Medical Items)
- Field and Special Repair Teams (SARET-R, SARET-RA, SARET-O, CBERT, CEER-T, FIELD)

- Units can VIEW, CLAIM, RECONCILE, and EXECUTE plans anytime from Deployment plus 30 days to Return minus 90 days. Units should RECONCILE a "CLAIMED" plan with the current property book before executing a plan. This will ensure all property book adjustments have been accounted for.

	WAPSC0	ARI	WAPSC0 ARI	Jan 9, 2009	Jan 9, 2009	8	N

- Units can REMOVE items from a CLAIMED plan. The PBO also must delete the item from the property book or the Claimed Plan will display a red reconcile button to indicate the plan does not match the property book.

- Units can SUSPEND items from an executed plan. The PBO also must remove the item from the property book or the URP will auto generate a new plan for that item.

- When items are added to the property book after plans are executed, the URP will automatically build a new plan. The new plan name will indicate how many plans have been built for that Reset Strategy for that Unit, by adding a number to the end of the plan name.

- Auto-updates between unclaimed plans and the property book continue until the plan is claimed. Units must claim and execute all their Reset plans.
- Units can still nominate Field Reset equipment for Sustainment Reset. Uploading Technical Inspection documentation into the URP is still required.
- Units can automatically print all DD Form 1348-1 for the ARI and Sustainment Supply (Medical.)
