

LIA Rolling Out Enhanced EPIC

EVERYONE LIKES A GOOD EPIC, BUT SOLDIERS AND CIVILIANS ARE REALLY GOING TO LOVE THIS EPIC NEWS!

In 2010, the Logistics Innovation Agency (LIA), a field operating agency of Army G-4, launched the Enterprise Policy Interactive Capability (EPIC) to help Army logisticians quickly find G-4 administrative publications. We told you about it on Pages 56-57 in PS 694 (Sep 10).

The web-based, quick-reference tool was designed to save logisticians time searching for relevant pieces of policy from Army Regulations, Army Pamphlets, Army All Army Activities (ALARACTs) and DOD transportation regulations (DTRs).

Now LIA, with the sponsorship from the Office of the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of the Army, has developed an enhanced version of their policy search tool that includes administrative publications for the entire Army.

Just like the original logistics version, this enhanced EPIC version functions like popular commercial search engines, but concentrates its searches on Army and DOD policy publications.

Users are able to search by words or phrases and the tool will retrieve relevant paragraph(s) or ALARACT(s).

AR 670-1 : Wear and Appearance of Army Uniforms and Insignia

28-10. Branch insignia

a. Regimental collar insignia.

1. Regimental collar insignia is the soldier's branch insignia on which the numerical designation of the regiment is affixed. Regimental collar insignia is worn in lieu of the branch insignia by officer and enlisted soldiers affiliated with infantry, armor, field artillery, air defense artillery, cavalry, special forces, or aviation regiments. Soldiers affiliated with these regiments also will wear the regimental collar insignia when not assigned to the regiment, except as provided in paragraph 28-9, above. A soldier affiliated to a regiment but having a branch other than the currently assigned branch will wear the assigned branch insignia without a numeral. Soldiers will not wear numerals designating battalions on regimental collar insignia. Regimental collar insignia is locally procured and furnished as an organizational item to affiliated enlisted soldiers. Commanders will permit enlisted soldiers who are affiliated with the regiment to retain regimental collar insignia when reassigned from the affiliated regiment.

2. The regimental number for the combat arms branches is positioned as shown in figure 28-176. For armor, cavalry, special forces, infantry, aviation and field artillery officer branches, personnel may wear the regimental number as a separate item, positioned in the same location as illustrated for the one-piece insignia. Regimental numbers attached to insignia

Policies can be grouped by administrative types (regulations, PAMS, ALARACTS, etc.). EPIC also allows users to save or print their results.

Now users from the various staff elements (Secretary of the Army staff, G-1, G-2, etc.) will be able to cross-check policies with other Army staff to ensure policies on similar subjects don't conflict with each other.

For instance, if G-1 has a policy on clothing items, G-1 staffers will be able to see policies from other staff elements on the same subject.

This enhanced version of EPIC will start to be released by the end of FY12.
